Edith,
To one of my very best friends, I think you know how I feel
without my writing it.
Stay just as well, whatever it is you are!

Good Luck
Your friend,

Maria and Friends

Dear all of you:

A few days before I came here, when I was getting ready to make the trip, I was really nervous wondering about how this experience was going to be. I thought over and over, if I was going to have a good time here, and if the people were going to like me. I was really afraid of everything, and I was scared to go into this new experience, a new method of life, to know new people, new customs and a new culture.

I didn't want to be away from my family and friends. I also wasn't sure if I was going to have friends and people who love me here in my new situation; how wrong I was!!! It is hard to be away from my family and friends, but now I know that to be far away from the family and friends I have acquired here, will be just as hard!

I am very, very glad I came here and met all the people I know, learned a new culture and taught a little bit of mine

I will always be proud to talk about this wonderful experience I was so lucky to be given.

The time has passed too fast, and now it is time for me to say good-bye. Remember me as I will always remember you! I wish you all the very best of luck in the future

Behave!!
Love,
Maria

Plays and Events in the Valley of 1990

An original play written and directed by Gregg Leary. The "factional" play centered around the Ashtabula, Ohio bridge disaster of December 29, 1876. Ninety-two persons perished in the wreck. It was a story of triumph and tragedy

To The Class of 1978.

I hope that you have learned that life is full of ups and downs. Your past twelve years of education have been valuable and will increase in value as you continue to grow.

Your class has been one of the best ever at Jefferson Area High School.

I wish you success in your precious future. My prayers and thoughts will continue to be with you.
